

Jordi Broncano Cabrero

Dr. Broncano is the Head of the Cardiothoracic Imaging Unit of the company HealthTime. He obtained his medical degree at University of Navarre and did his training in radiology at Clínica Universidad de Navarra (Spain).

He has published more than 25 manuscripts in peer-reviewed journals. He has delivered more than 100 scientific and educational exhibits at national and international meetings (Radiological Society of North America, Society of thoracic radiology, European Congress of Radiology, European Society of Thoracic Imaging, European Association of Cardiovascular Imaging) being several of them awarded. He has delivered several invited communications on spanish national (Sociedad Española de Radiología Médica and Sociedad Española de Imagen Cardiotorácica) and international meetings (Asociación latinoamericana del tórax, ARRS – SERAM congress, North American Society of Cardiac Imaging meeting). He is part of the board of directors at the Sociedad Española de Imagen Cardiotorácica (SEICAT). Also, he was involved in the chest subcommittee at the ECR and at the thoracic educational exhibit subcommittee at the RSNA congress.

His academic interests are on advanced cardiac MR (diffusion weighted imaging and 4D flow), functional chest MR (DWI, DCE-MR, T1 and T2 mapping), 3D printing and AI.